What we're hearing in April 2017

A Fourth Album for Damien Robitaille

After a quiet period, he is back with a whirlwind of production. For the last five years, Damien Robitaille has seen his life turned upside-down by happy events. After getting married and setting up house in Longueuil with his wife, he welcomed his little girl, Elida, who has changed his life. It was in his house on the South Shore that he produced a musical workshop with his songs and melodies to put together a “smoothie” album, as he described it. His album, “Univers parallèles”, follows a well-defined main theme in many styles.

Old issues on the web site

The first 10 issues of The Robitailleries, reviewed and edited, are now available on line on our website www.robetaille.org. They include the histories of the three Robitaille brothers who were married: Jean, Pierre, and Philippe. The first two established themselves in L’Ancienne-Lorette and the third, in Montréal. You can also see photos of our ancestors’ homes on our ancestral land on the cover pages of the first two issues.

The Los Angeles Kings fired their coach and general manager, and offered Luc Robitaille a contract as president of the team. (continued on the site)
